

SHAW PLEADS FOR BETTER ENUNCIATION

Says people mumble over most important words when they are talking.

NO CORRECT LANGUAGE

No two people can agree on it; certain sorts of speech are bar to success.

By GEORGE BERNARD SHAW. London, June 24. Have you ever known a family with a celebrated talking parrot? The family asked their friends to come and hear Polly say such pretty things as "Pretty Polly," "Give me a lump of sugar," "Fetch me a cab."

Mrs. Paul P. Schiener

Mrs. Schiener who was Miss Ruth Evelyn McLean, was married on Wednesday, June 18th, at Saint Teresa's church, with a breakfast following at her home in Seneca street.

WEDDINGS

DRASTIC ACTION TO COPE WITH SLAVE TRAFFIC

British government will send division of fast destroyers to the Red sea.

HUGE RAIDS IN AFRICA

Abyssinia, member of League of Nations, denies charges of complicity.

Special Correspondence. London, June 23. Drastic British action is to be taken to cope with the revival of the slave traffic on the East African coast. It was announced for the foreign office that the government has decided to dispatch a division of fast destroyers to the Red sea.

Then again, business who has asked me to luncheon has heard that I am a vegetarian. She will probably provide that unpleasant vegetable called asparagus. When she finds I will not eat it and do not like it she will say, "Oh, Mr. Shaw, you are a pessimist."

General news notes. Auto users of West Africa prefer cars made in America. One state school in the Philippines is for natives only.

People should be taught to cultivate and be proud of a certain athleticism in their speech. There is athleticism in articulation as in other things, and I do not know why it is that so many young people who are quite properly proud of athleticism in lawn tennis and other sports should get so intolerably slovenly when they come to their own language.

I instructed the late Lewis Calvert in John Bull's O.T. Island, to hurl the most earnest words across the footlights as important and mumble the rest. "That," I said to Mr. Calvert, "is the secret of political victory in England."

LITERARY FLAPPEROS SEARCH AMERICANS FOR MAIN STREET PEOPLE

Pose of young pretendts is amusing, says Davis Edwards—Average English reader believes Sinclair Lewis book

By DAVIS EDWARDS. Special to The Buffalo Express. London, June 23.—There is something very amusing about the curiosity (brand new) with which many of the so-called literary flappers, as Sydney Grundy named the young who love to pose as those who love, know and aspire to letters of one form or another, but have neither that tremendous energy which is required by writer folk, or any actual talent, evince toward the American tourist this year.

In other words, we who are Americans and have lived on this side for a long time, are struck by two strange things: one is the mistake Americans make about the English and the other is mistakes the English make about Americans. At the foundation they're about the same variety of people. The American is more alert, the Englishman seems better bred because he is more accustomed to abiding by rules set by his ancestors—many of them very admirable and proved by long use to be good. GETS NICHOLAS DIAMOND OUT OF HOCK SHOP

French woman had to pawn 43-carat pebble to pay debts.

Nice, France, June 23.—The famous 43-carat sapphire-blue diamond once belonging to Emperor Nicholas of Russia has been taken out of the municipal pawnshop here, where it has been held for three years as a security for a loan of 20,000 francs from Russia.

Telephone girls in Paris must have a rigid physical test before being accepted for a position. The average age of the girls in the telephone exchange is twenty years, whereas in the United States it is from fourteen to eighteen. Without the consent of a woman's Turkish husband cannot be a part of her household in the United States.
